American Sign Language and Deaf Culture: (8th-12th) $10

Teacher: Sarah Wallenstein sarah.cook391@gmail.com

Accepts: cash and check and Venmo

When did you realize you were Hearing?

In this interactive course, high school students will learn the basics of American Sign Language (ASL), starting with the alphabet and everyday vocabulary. As the course progresses, students will practice at home and participate in "silent time" during class to build fluency and confidence in signing. Alongside language skills like correct syntax and grammar on the face and hands, students will explore Deaf culture through the eyes of guest speakers, open discussions, and hands-on activities. This class offers a meaningful and fun introduction to both ASL and the Deaf community.

American Sign Language Fun and Games: (1st-5th) $25

Teacher: Molly Johnson molsjohnsonx3@gmail.com

Accepts: cash and check and Venmo and PayPal

We will have fun learning basic signs. By the end of the semester, my hope is that each student will have discovered a love for American Sign Language and have a desire to continue learning in the years to come.

Animal Letters: (PreK-2nd) $20

Teacher: Emily Palmore emilylarnold@yahoo.com

Accepts: cash and check and Venmo

We will focus on learning and mastering our alphabet. I will read a story, say a chant, and have a hands on activity that correlates with each letter. We will make a small craft each week and many interactive toys to master each letter. It will be lots of fun and engaging class to learn to read and write the basics of our alphabet.

Art from the Heart: (5th-8th) $50

Teacher: Miranda Wilkes mirandawilkes@gmail.com

Fallacy Detectives: Intro to Logic: (7th-12th) $35

Teacher: Julie Davis julie.ezelle.davis@gmail.com

Accepts: cash and check and Venmo and PayPal

First of all – Why study fallacies? What is a fallacy? A fallacy is an error in logic – a place where someone has made a mistake in their thinking.

“A cloud is 90% water. A watermelon is 90% water. Therefore, since a plane can fly through a cloud, a plane can fly through a watermelon.”

In this course, your student will encounter common fallacies found in marketing, media, news, and propaganda. This will be a FUN and practical class designed to give students the intellectual tools to recognize bad reasoning in the messaging around them. We will be using the book The Fallacy Detective: Thirty-Eight Lessons on How to Recognize Bad Reasoning by Nathaniel Bluedorn and Hans Bluedorn. Workbook is included in this price.

For the Love of Writing: (6th-9th) $40

Teacher: Gracie Gilbert graceannegilbert@gmail.com

Accepts: cash and check and Venmo

Are you someone who loves to write and wants to improve their skills? Well then, do we have a class for you! We will cover a range of different topics, including how to be more consistent in your writing, how to give and receive feedback, how to create meaningful characters and stories, and how to face the dreaded dragon we call "Writer's Block." A lot of what you will learn can be applied to both fiction and non-fiction. This class will explore the challenges and joys of writing and how we can bless others with our writing. We will be doing some writing in class, but most of it will be done as assignments. If the student prefers to write using a laptop, they can feel free to bring it, but notebooks and all other supplies will be provided.

Lewis and Tolkien Book Club: (6th-9th) $40

Teacher: Gracie Gilbert

graceannegilbert@gmail.com

Accepts: cash and check and Venmo

C.S. Lewis and J.R.R. Tolkien are two of the most influential authors of all time, and their stories still resonate with the readers of their work today. In this class, we will learn about their lives and the impact they have made in our world through the power of story. We will also read through two of their most popular works, Lewis's The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe and Tolkien's The Hobbit, and dive deep into the themes of these stories and even have broader discussions of how stories can offer hope in a broken world. This class will encourage you to think deeply about stories and what we can learn from them. Additionally, we will explore how community and creativity work together, and how Lewis and Tolkien are an example of that. Each student will need a copy of The Lion, The Witch, and The Wardrobe as well as The Hobbit. These can be physical books, audiobooks, or ebooks. Library copies are also fine.
